

from us to all those we meet, rather like a ripple effect, as we are all interconnected whether we know it or not.

Jacquelyn-Rose also led the audience in a short collective meditation to raise the consciousness and project Peace into the World.

After what must have been an exhilarating yet exhausting solo performance (though uplifting to the audience), she received a standing ovation and even found the energy to sing and play an encore on her guitar.

Definitely worthy of a visit, we trust that in time she will impart this positive message through her performances to North America and Worldwide audiences.

Meanwhile her website gives some examples of her inspirational work at www.symbiosisjr.com.
